DESCRIPTION

Gianni and Erika's third album, after two works released by Voodoo Rhythm Records and produced by Jim Diamond (The Dirtbombs, The White Stripes). The record features former Screaming Trees vocalist – and acclaimed solo artist – Mark Lanegan and Chilean multi-instrumentalist Alain Johannes. "The title track of the new album was born during our last day of recordings," says Gianni Blacula and Switchblade Erika. Gianni and Erika got in touch with Alain for the first time in September 2019, during a Spanish tour, while they were looking for inspirations for their new record. In the same moment Alain was on a European tour which ended in Italy. The collaboration was born in a spontaneous way, for a mutual esteem between the Devils and the famous producer and musician. The album was recorded in Naples, Italy, with a two weeks session in a historic studio equipped with a large tracking room with truly unique acoustics. Alain actively collaborated in the production of the album taking part to creative process and helping them with the arrangements. The Devils formed in Naples in 2015 and their first two albums Sin, You Sinners! in 2016 and Iron Butt in 2017. Since 2016 the duo has constantly toured, and has played everywhere doing over 400 shows between Europe and Canada. The Devils are the sound of desolation and chaos; their style is primitive, filled with sex, sin and rock n' roll. They are wild, loud and sexy. The name of the band was chosen has tribute to the movie The Devils by Ken Russell and they have been on tour with Jon Spencer, The Sonics, Boss Hog, and The Monsters, and has open act around Europe for Mudhoney, Nashville Pussy, Guitar Wolf, Kid Congo, and many more.
