DESCRIPTION

Reflex is Gábor Lázár's debut album on raster. His new record is a collection of seven tracks, featuring an extended sound palette of percussions and synthesizers drawing listeners attention towards the essential soundscapes of techno while maintaining his distinct, uncompromising and meticulously detailed style. While the tracks do not follow traditional narratives, the album has an evolution: it gently builds up from challenging, unpredictable, and organically composed structures to linear yet playful forms of techno-infused tracks, taking listeners on a journey from home listening environments to club contexts. The senses are stimulated by micro-variations of textures and patterns, leading to the feeling of here and now. Gábor's consistent production techniques and intuitive compositional approach work together coherently, addressing the listener's cognition from different angles simultaneously, offering a variety of ways for the listener to get immersed.
