DESCRIPTION

Interminable Conniption finds avant metallurgist Aaron Turner ruminating on the aberrant possibilities of solo electric guitar. Herein, Turner focuses on psycho-emotional atmospherics built from the sonic detritus of a full-stack and a few effects pedals. The resultant tracks are minimally-layered spontaneous performances interweaving quivering drones, distended melodies, and saturated dissonance into an immersive architecture of burbling turbulence and uneasy quietude. Besides his solo works, Aaron Turner is renowned for his participation in the bands Sumac and Isis. His other projects include Old Man Gloom, Mamiffer, and House of Low Culture, as well as collaborations with other artists such as Tashi Dorji, Daniel Menche, Keiji Haino, and Circle. He is the founder of Hydra Head Records and co-founder of Sige Records. Cassette only; limited edition of 200 copies; Illustration by SavX.
