DESCRIPTION

Veyl welcomes Velvet May for his debut LP on the label. Enchanted By The Muse marks a new and exciting direction for the Italian-born, Berlin-based artist whose aesthetic focuses on post-punk, techno and industrial music. This album embodies May's exploration and experimentation of various musical directions, reflecting a fusion of industrial, rock and electronic elements. It also symbolizes a new approach, spanning genres and styles and exploring his sound from every angle. Conceptually, the album reflects a realm of emotional dissonance in an industrial desolation – where harsh electronic textures mingle with gritty industrial and rock elements. Also present are echoes of punk's raw energy and adrenalinic drive, a musical journey through shifting moods and atmospheres, serving as a soundtrack to different aspects of life and capturing the essence of its high and lows. From the opening track, "Now That You Have Left It All," listeners are lured into a thrilling sonic dimension with a shot of energy that sets the stage for journey ahead. "Keep On Falling" injects a dose of rock which can be found throughout the record fused with the artist's signature blend of postpunk, industrial and techno strains. Tracks like "The Outsider" and "Slithering Serenade" conjure raw, distorted rhythms and a menacing fuzz which bleeds out of the speakers while "Scales of Gold" traverses back through infectious body and wave. "Illusion In Control" is the perfect climax, a musical assault that shatters boundaries and blurs the lines between reality and fantasy.
